Bernard Lewis Had Fooled Companion and Help Came Late.

Bernard M. Lewis, the 15-year-old son of Robert Lewis of No. 4215 Easton avenue, was drowned while bathing in the Meramec diver near Meramec Highlands Sunday aft-ernson. His body was recovered and an aquest was held yesterday by Coroner Armstrong.

Armstrong.

Lewis went to the Highlands with Gilbert McClure, who is 16 years old, and lives at No. 4213 Easton avenue. The boys umped into the river and Lewis cried to McClure that he was drowning. The latter went to his rescue and when near him Lewis began to laugh, saying that he was may fooling. Lewis began to laugh, saying that he was only fooling.

McClure, in his testimony before the Coroner's inquest, said that he was a good swimmer and started to ewim across, and that Lewis started to follow him. They had gone but a little distance when Lewis again cried for heip. McClure thought he was fooling, but when he did go to his friend's assistance it was too late. He struggled in the water with him for several minutes, and when Lewis sank the third time McClure was harely able to save himself.

LOSES BOTH ALIMONY AND HER CHILDREN

Society Woman Who Sought to Have Court's Decree Enforced Comes Out a Signal Local

Memphis, Tenn., June M.—Because Mra.
Ira Cochran, nee Sullivan, a dashing and handsome complainant in a divorce suit at Waynesboro, Miss., insisted on the payment of alimony ordered by the Chancery Court, the tribunal has issued a decree setting aside any further payment of all-mony and turning her children, whom she had in custedy, over to the husband. All this is on account of alleged infidelity of the fair complainant.

She is one of Mississippi's most beauti-

She is one of Mississippi's most beautiful women, and has moved in the best society. She sued her husband for divorce, alleging cruelty and nonsupport. Pending trial she was granted alimony. Her husband finally quit paying it and she went into court to-day with a petition. He answered, preferring charges against his wife, claiming she was not a fit person to have the care of their children. The petition was followed by evidence. Four or five men, married and single, were summoned.

Now many women are after the scalp of the fair detendant. Mrs. Cuchran, dressed in the height of fashion, sat and cried bitterly.

NEW YORK CLUB STOCKS.

The case of Jerry Riordan, charged with tampqring with a ballot, was continued in Judge Horatio D. Wood's court yesterday morning because it is impossible to get the necessary evidence. Under a recent ruling of Judge Marshall of the Supreme Court of Missouri the Board of Election Commissioners is not permitted to allow the ballots to be seen, and without the ballots which are alleged to have been altered, the State could make no case.

When the cause was called yesterday morning the three Election Commissioners, who had been subpoensed to bring the ballots in question, were in court, but they reported that they could not produce the ballots, owing to the decision of the Supreme Court. Circuit Attorney Folk announced that without the ballots he could not make a case, and so Judge Wood continued the case generally.

Riordan was a challenger in the Fifth Precinct of the Fifteenth Ward. He was charged with tampering with a ballot at the national election last November.

James Nolan, charged with attempted fraudulent voting in the Eleventh Precinct of the Twenty-eighth Ward, was placed on trial before Judge Ferriss yesterday A venire was selected. The jury will be chosen to-day. CASE WILL SOON REACH JURY.

day instructed the jury sitting on the case of Jessie Morrison and the arguments were then bagun. The case will probably go to the jury to-morrow evening.

The instructions make it possible for Miss Morrison to be convicted in either first or second degree of murder, or the second cr third degree of manslaughter. Her viatement on the stand of the fatal fight is pitted against the dying declaration of Mrs. Castle.

William Reces, County Attorney, began the argument for the State. There will be eight apeches, four on either side.

Miss Morrison is a little paler than when the trial began, but appears strong and well. She listened without apparent emotion to the reading of the instructions. The arguments were continued all afternoon and had not been concluded when the court adjourned until to-morrow.

DISPUTED OVER A TRANSFER Transit Conductor Attempted to Eject Mrs. Bressler.

but she kept her seat until she reacced her destination.

Her transfer was from an Easton avenue car to an Eighteenth street car. She mid she had asked for a transfer to an Eighth street car, and refused to pay another fare which was demanded by the conductor. The conductor stopped his car several times and threatened to call an officer.

On Eighth street, between Chestnut and Market streets, Mrs. Bressler got off, but immediately jumped on again to secure the number of the car and the conductor's number. The conductor took hold of ber, in an attempt to put her off, but desisted at the request of several men. Then she left the car of her own accord.
